Wellbeing Fitness Education Centre and/or its associates shall not be liable to you for any losses caused by any such unauthorised interception or access.

How we use Cookies

A cookie is a small non-executable text file that is placed on your computer when you browse a website.

Our website uses two kinds of cookies; first party 'session cookies' which retain information for the duration of your visit, for example, if you're completing more than one form you only need to provide your information once; and first party 'persistent cookies' which remain on your computer after your visit. Overall, cookies help us provide you with a better website, by enabling us to monitor which pages you find useful and which you do not. A cookie in no way gives us access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with us. Most browsers are set to automatically accept cookies.

Links to other Websites

Wellbeing Fitness Education Centre and/or its associates' web site may contain links to other sites not controlled or monitored by Wellbeing Fitness Education Centre. These sites may independently send you cookies and collect data and information. Wellbeing Fitness Education Centre and/or its associates are not responsible for and does not accept any liability for their actions or the content of their sites. Full details of the Wellbeing Fitness Education Centre and/or its associates' privacy policy and about cookies can be downloaded from our website.

Controlling your personal information

You may choose to restrict the collection or use of your personal information in the following ways:

- whenever you are asked to fill in a form on the website, look for the box that you can click to indicate that you do not want the information to be used by anybody for direct marketing purposes
- if you have agreed to us using your personal information for direct marketing purposes, you may change your mind at any time by writing to or emailing us at ianryves@wellbeingfitness.co.uk

We will not sell, distribute or lease your personal information to third parties unless we have your permission or are required by law to do so. We may use your personal information to send you promotional information about third parties, which we think you may find interesting if you tell us that you wish this to happen.

You may request details of personal information, which we hold about you under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) Act. A small fee will be payable. If you would like a copy of the information held on you please write to:
